Website Pricing Terms:

Normal Order of Business:

1. You (the customer) contact us about your website build/hosting/maintenance needs, and send in any applicable materials/content.
2. We send you a quote/contract in the form of an invoice.
3. Once payment is received, we go right to work on your order.

By paying the quote/contract invoice, you are entering into a binding contract with Digitally Drafted Design Development, and agreeing to the terms thereof.

Total of invoice is due in full before work will begin.

Checks MUST be made payable to "Digitally Drafted Design Development".

Certain services are non-refundable as indicated, no exceptions.

Custom Quotes are good for 15 days.

Any balance beyond the quote/contract invoiced amount will be due at the time the website and/or changes/updates are shown and accepted, but before any modifications are made.

Domain registration, hosting, and email services are auto-renewed at the end of their intended cycle for the same term as the prior cycle. These listed services must be formally changed and/or cancelled three months in advance of the end of their respective terms. Failure to do so will make you liable for renewal charges. Renewal charges will be invoiced and required due two months prior to the respective services' end of term. This policy is in place to ensure uninterrupted services.

Credit/Debit card payments are welcomed, and are transacted via Paypal(tm) emailed invoices.

You may request a Paypal(tm) emailed invoice after you have received your invoice.

We do not automatically send out Paypal(tm) emailed invoices, unless you request your entire account setup as such.

We do not offer auto-billing to cards. A Paypal(tm) emailed invoice must be processed for each card transaction.

Paypal(tm) processes the entirety of your card/online transaction. We do not record your card/paypal information.

We do not accept Credit/Debit card payments over the phone or via fax or via conventional mail.

For any questions about the security of Paypal(tm) emailed invoices, visit <http://www.paypal.com> for further information.

PayPal is a global leader in online payment solutions with over 100 million account members worldwide.
